

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Rosemary.
Rosemary, could we give you Remembrance with your name, Are long you'd tell us something Of Heaven whence you came—Of rosy enchanted meadows Where, through the quivering day,
The children waiting to be born Wonder, and sing, and play,
And where you wandered caroling To the angel's hand Closed down your eyes—then opened them To light this earthly land—This land where they've sent you To share its joy, its strife, Its love, and learn through Womanhood How rich, how deep, its life,

Mrs. Hoadley's Reception.
One of the most elegant and fashionable receptions of the winter was given from 5 to 7 P. M. yesterday by Mrs. E. M.
Hoadley, of No. 823 Monument Avenue.
Mrs. Hoadley's home is admirably adapted for receiving, and the spacious parlor and hall were thronged for several hours with the society matrons and maids in their lovely evening gowns.
Mrs. Hoadley's delightful hospitalities.

Decorations throughout were in palms and American Beauties that made an exquisite setting for the party. The framed, Thilow's Orchestra from a doorway, curtained with similar, played a brilliant selection of airs during the afternoon.
Mrs. Hoadley stood in the main parlor to the right of entrance and welcomed her guests, gowned in white cloth, garnished with insets of lace. Her flowers were American Beauties, and her jewelry, diamonds, pearls, and a large brooch.
Mrs. Garrett E. Wall, who was with her, wore a gown of white satin with pearls, and had a bouquet of violets.
Both Mrs. Hoadley and Mrs. Wall are among the handsomest and most agreeable of the young matrons of Richmond society, among whom they are extremely popular.

Receiving with them were Mrs. Ashton Starkie, Mrs. T. M. Perkins, Mrs. Adolph Williams, Mrs. Herbert Funtun and Mrs.
William Todd.

Mrs. Ashton Starkie wore Irish point lace over white satin, and pearls.
Mrs. T. M. Perkins, pale mauve cloth.
Mrs. Herbert Funtun, lavender crepe de chine, with violets.
Mrs. William Todd, an imported costume of blue broadcloth.

Mrs. Edwin Hewitt, in dahlia pink, diamonds, lace and diamonds, and Miss Mary Jones, in white chiffon cloth, assisted the hostess in the drawing-room, where the table, covered with handsome lace, had a centre plaque of crimson.
Beauties and broad satin ribbons were knocked with the roses. The Beauties also encircled the room, which was attractively placed and provided over.

Bridge Party.
Mrs. Charles Spicer, of No. 96 Floyd Avenue, entertained a few friends at bridge yesterday afternoon. Seven tables were arranged, and the game proved most enjoyable.

Christmas decorations in holly, ground pine and mistletoe were very beautiful.
After the game delicious refreshments were served.

erick P. Spencer, Mrs. John A. Coker, Jr.,

In Honor of Miss Keim.

Mrs. William Graeme Hawley, Jr., was hostess last evening at one of the most brilliant receptions of the season in honor of her guest, Miss Harriette de la Randolph Kela, of Reading, Pa.
The beautiful home, No. 281 East Grace Street, was gay with Christmas decorations. Holly and cedar wreathed the balcony and flanked the entrance, while broad red ribbons were draped from the chandeliers to the corners of the room. Glittering ever frost and frosted leaves were also used with dazzling effect.

Thilow's Orchestra, selected by palms, played throughout the evening.
Mrs. Hawley was handsomely gowned in white cloth with pearl sequins, and wore diamonds. She was assisted in receiving by the guest of honor, Miss Keim, in black lace over eggshell silk, with ornaments of diamonds and diamonds. Miss Pauline Barker, in white cloth and pink silk, princess lace and diamonds,

On Wenlock Edge.

By A. E. HOUSMAN.

Other selections from this author, his portrait, autograph and biographical sketch have already been printed in this series.

On Wenlock Edge the wood's in trouble;
His forest fleece the Wrekin heaves;
The gale, it plies the saplings double,
And thick on Severn snow the leaves.

Two blow like this through holt and hanger Where Uriclon the city stood:
'Tis the old wind in the old anger, But then it threshed another wood.

Then, 'twas before my time, the Roman At yonder heaving hill would stare;
The blood that warms an English yeoman, The thoughts that hurt him, they were there.

There, like the wind through woods in riot, Through him the gale of life blew high;
The tree of man was never quiet; Then 'twas the Roman, now 'tis I.

The gale, it plies the saplings double,
It blows so hard, 'twill soon be gone;
To-day the Roman and his trouble Are ashes under Uriclon.

Dinner at the Jefferson.

Mr. Kutnow, of London, England, entertained at dinner at the Jefferson Hotel, Tuesday evening, a few gentlemen friends of this city.
Among those enjoying Mr. Kutnow's hospitality were: Mrs. John E. Davidson, Charles R. Robins, Frank M. Hoade, Hol-lyer S. Basher, Jr., W. A. Shepherd, A. M.
Willis, S. C. Bowen, Grover Baughman, T. T. Goodline, E. Gordon G. Williams, Chas.
M. Miller, J. Palmer Bright, T. Vanderbilt, Mr. Leslie B. Wiggs and Dr.
Mantel.

Johnson—Herbert.

One of the most beautiful of December weddings was celebrated at 4 P. M. yesterday in Monumental Episcopal Church, when Miss Mary Louise Herbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Charles Herbert, was given in marriage to Mr. Ira Branch Johnson, of Norfolk, Va., the Rev.
William E. Evans, D. D., rector of the church, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Richard Williams, of Washington, D. C., performing the ceremony.

The music was directed by Mr. Young, and the vested choir proceeded the entrance of the bride party into the church, singing the marriage hymn.

Altar decorations were in palms and silver candles, the background of greenery throwing into distinct relief the charming picture made as the bride and groom and their attendants were grouped around the altar.

The bride walked to the altar, where she was met by the groom and his best man, Mr. Hammond Johnson, of the University of Virginia, with her father. She was exquisitely gowned in white muslin, as princess and en train, with a garment of duchess lace. Her long train was caught with sprays of hills-of-the-valley, and she carried a diamond bouquet of the same fragrant flowers, intermingled with white orchids.

She was attended by her maid of honor, Miss Marie Herbert, and her bridesmaids, Misses Hattie Shiloh, Margaret B. Holden, Lillian Bliford, Mary Drake, Anna Cowardin, Trent Witt, Harriet Taylor, of Norfolk; Mary Castle Lee, of Fredericksburg; Thelma Watson, of Danville; Lily Barker, of the University of Virginia, and Margaret Williams, of Washington, D. C.

The maid of honor wore a lovely toilet of pink sun-plaited messaline. Her flowers were a shower basket of pink sweet peas. Bridesmaids were very smart indeed in toilets of white muslin, plaited chiffon de soie. They had arm bouquets of pink roses.

The groomsmen were: Messrs. Henry Hotchkiss, Burkdale Lathrop, William H. Langhorne and Selmer Herbert, of Richmond; Messrs. Walter, Moreland and Jones, of Norfolk; Mr. J. E. Forbes, of Watlington, N. Y.; Mr. F. W.
Wies, of West Virginia; Mr. Roger Walker, Charlottesville; Mr. J. de Sautles, of New York, and Mr. H. S. Flower, of Vicksburg, Miss.

A reception, limited to the bride party and immediate families of the bride and groom, was given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Herbert, the parsonage of the bride, after the ceremony.

Mrs. J. C. Herbert was attired in black lace over white, and had a corsage bou-quet of violets. The grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Herbert, was very handsome in black crepe de chine, and carried a jet and Mrs. Walter D. Watson, of Danville, her aunt, wore white crepe de chine.

Mrs. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hall and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Johnson, members of the groom's family, from Norfolk, were in the city for the wedding also.
Mrs. Walter Doyle and Miss Beale Doyle, of Norfolk.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson left last evening for a Northern tour. They will,
on their return, make their home at No. 42 Pembroke Avenue, Norfolk. Mrs. Johnson has always been a great social favorite in this community, where she has lived from childhood. Mr. Johnson is a graduate of the Virginia Military Institute and the University of Virginia, and is a distinguished member of the Norfolk bar.

The young couple have many good wishes from scores of friends here and elsewhere.

Adams—Epes.

A quiet but pretty marriage took place in the parlor of the Jefferson Hotel, yesterday, December 12th, when Miss Martha Cunningham Epes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Epes, of "The Oaks," Norfolk county, Va., became the wife of Mr. Richard Ashley Adams, of Norfolk, Va., the Rev. H. H. Dickerson, of Ashland, officiating.

The bride party reached Richmond about 2 o'clock on the afternoon of Wednesday and proceeded at once to the Jefferson Hotel, following the ceremony the wedding reception was served in the private dining-room of the hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams will make their home in Norfolk, Va.

Visiting Miss Adele Williams.

fessor Stockton Axon, and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson are visiting Miss Adele Williams, at No. 26 West Grace Street, for a few days.

Miss Axon belongs to the charmingly cultured set that renders Princeton University one of the most attractive places in the United States. Her brother, Professor Axon, visited Richmond and the Woman's Club some years ago, and made a delightful impression on Richmond people who met him. Mr. Woodrow Wilson is also known here most favorably and personally, as well as through his authorship.

History Class Meets.

The History Class of the Woman's Club, at its regular meeting yesterday afternoon, had for its consideration the "Year 1639 in Virginia." Mrs. Charles G. Basher read a most admirable paper explaining the peculiarly important events of this year.

Mrs. Basher touched lightly upon the arrival of the maidens, who were sent over from England as wives for the Colonists, and the coming of the Dutch traders, supposed to have brought the first slaves to Virginia—both events of the year 1639—and gave most of her attention to the discussion of the meeting of the first House of Burgesses at Jamestown, the first legislative assembly on American soil. She gave a brief account of what is known of these pioneer legislators, explaining their influence and prominence in the Colony, and dwelling upon the conditions that led up to the assembling of this body. She especially called attention to the spirit of local self-government, which has always characterized Virginia, and which found its first expression in this assembly.

She spoke in a very interesting way of Sir George Yeardley, at that time Governor of Virginia, of Master John Pory, the speaker of the first House of Burgesses; of the Rev. Mr. Buick, who opened the assembly with prayer, and who was at that time rector of the church at Jamestown, and of the twenty-two members of the assembly; namely, Captain William Powell, Esquire William Spence, Mr. Samuel Sharpe, Mr.
James Jordan, Mr. Thomas Dowse, Mr.
John Potentien, Captain William Davis, Mr. Will Capp, Mr. Thomas Davis, Mr.
Robert Stacy, Captain Thomas Graves, Mr. Walter Shelley, Mr. John Boys, Mr.
John Jackson, Mr. Powlett, Mr. Gourmont, Esquire Popham, Mr. Jefferson, Captain Christopher Lane, Esquire Wes-cher, Captain Wirt and Lieutenant Gibbs.

Richmond Chapter Meets.

The regular monthly meeting of Richmond Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, was held yesterday in Lee Camp Hall, Mrs. Randolph presiding.

Miss Mattie P. Harris, chairman of the committee having the Davis section at Hollywood Cemetery in charge, reported the section in excellent order and complimented Mr. Bargamin and Mr. Hooper for their courtesy and responsiveness to the requests of the committee.
Mrs. Edgar D. Taylor reported the work on the Jefferson Davis monument as progressing well, and said that Mr. Nolan had seen Mrs. George S. Holmes, of Charleston, S. C., president of the Davis Memorial Association, in regard to inscriptions for the monument.

Mrs. Randolph, in referring to Mrs.
Taylor's report, said that the central committee of the association had united with the veterans in requesting an increased appropriation from the Board of Aldermen for the celebration attendant upon the unveiling of the Davis monument next June.

She felt sure that the Board of Aldermen did not understand that the Confederated Memorial Association would be in Richmond on that occasion, as well as the veterans, and the increase would have been given. The corresponding secretary of the chapter was instructed to write a letter of thanks to Mr. Gilbert Pollock for his support of the Daughters' request.

All members of Richmond Chapter, U.
D. C., were requested to send in at once a contribution of fifty cents to the fund for the Daughters' building at Jamestown Exposition. The time was mentioned as short, therefore it behooved the chapter to act promptly. Cards of membership, entitling holders to special consideration would be given contributors.
The building would contain a restaurant, a checkroom and a dining-room, in charge of Mrs. Eugene Williams, of Loudoun County, a prominent member of the U. D. C.

Building fund contributions, it was decided, might be sent to any member of membership, and immediate families of the bride and groom, was given in the home
of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Herbert, the parsonage of the bride, after the ceremony.

Mrs. J. C. Herbert was attired in black
lace over white, and had a corsage bou-quet of violets. The grandmother of the
in black crepe de chine, and carried a
jet and Mrs. Walter D. Watson, of Danville, her aunt, wore white crepe de chine.

Mrs. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hall
and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Johnson, members
of the groom's family, from Norfolk,
were in the city for the wedding also.
Mrs. Walter Doyle and Miss Beale Doyle,
of Norfolk.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson left last evening for a Northern tour. They will,
on their return, make their home at No. 42
Pembroke Avenue, Norfolk. Mrs. Johnson has always been a great social favor-
from childhood. Mr. Johnson is a graduate of the Virginia Military Institute
and the University of Virginia, and is a distinguished member of the Norfolk bar.

from scores of friends here and elsewhere.
